TATSUYA KAWAHARA - Japan

e-mail: kawahara@i.kyoto-u.ac.jp

I am Tatsuya Kawahara, professor at Kyoto University, Japan.

My background is computer science and have engaged in the research of automatic speech recognition. I am also interested in languages as a hobby.

I am now involved in design and development of new transcription system for the House of Representatives of the Japanese Diet, based on automatic speech recognition, replacing the current shorthand system, yet to be used by stenographers (http://www.sap.ist.i.kyoto-u.ac.jp/diet/index-e.html).
